

Analysis of the Veterans Affairs

Through DCHV as a Sample set

DCHV program analysis

Per my obligations; here is my Due Diligence as well as Due care.

This is not an investigation at this point. Purely just an observation.

VA employees are systematically targeting specific veterans attacking them using passive aggressive techniques

No matter how many years of work
experience you have,
if you don't know
how to treat people.
it's worthless.

The 'DCHV check-in' is performed in all the courses. Leaving no actual response time. Forcing us to share sensitive information with those whom may misuse it, as well as showing no compassion to the issue.

Marked in red are courses with inappropriate and unethical conversations.

Mindfulness

recovery

Reflection
point

Lack of therapeutic time

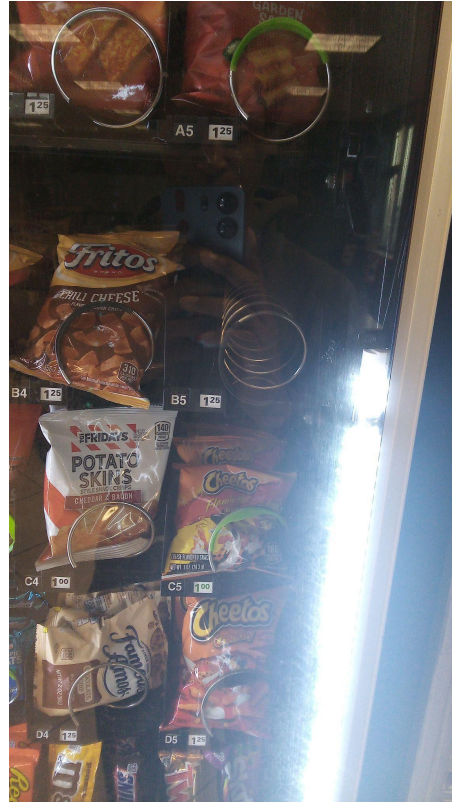

- Loud knocking every two hours called 'Health and safety' checks (from 8am to 10pm).
- 'Room inspections' done on off hour.
- Unable to leave building similar to CT6.
- After 10pm check seem to be done every three throughout the night (by nursing).
- Intercoms are loudly continuously up to 10pm each day.
- Lack of access to affordable hygiene materials.
- One least than minutes interaction with case manager with no follow-up/through.
- Program leads are alway unavailable to resolve issues.
- The are no Veterans Affairs programs for healthy adults under the age of 60.

Nutrition

Lack of Healthy snack options

Also misleading. Claims 10 cent discount. But actual adds 10 cents to each purchase.

Questions for consideration (no response needed)

- What is the Veteran Affairs definition/standard of a therapeutic environment?
- How do the VA address those with Battle Field fatigue(special operation and combat focus personnel)?
- How does this current process/track curve or prevent chronic homelessness among Veterans?
- When was the last time the tracks have been evaluated on their effectiveness?
- Do the instructors/social workers have any conflict of interest that weaken the fidelity of this establishment?
- Are Veteran not attending programs due to their perceive irrelevancy?
- Should signing a legally binding document that is partially filled out be forced upon us?
- Who/Whom at the DOM is actually looking out for the veterans best interest?

- Confidentiality: Ensures that sensitive data is restricted to authorized individuals only, preventing unauthorized viewing, theft, and sharing.

Synapse of mental health track

My evaluation of the mental health program here at the DOM, is similar to that of the homeless program. This program focuses heavily, if not solely, on drug addiction. Alienating those who aim to better garner/understand their condition. Since every class is filibustered with the same stories and a desensitized instructor the risk of unwantedness is heightened. Forcing a profile approach highlights the lack of understanding among the staff. In conclusion, the staff focus only on what they find most comfortable/easiest and drown out individuals seeking clarity and connection.

Bad news: seems only one is working on it

Good news: your not the only one

APT definition

- An adversary with sophisticated levels of expertise and significant resources, allowing it through the use of multiple different attack vectors (e.g., cyber, physical, and deception), to generate opportunities to achieve its objectives which are typically to establish and extend its presence - from NIST SP 800-39
- An Advanced Persistent Threat (APT) is a sophisticated, prolonged cyberattack where intruders establish an undetected, long-term presence in a network to steal sensitive data or sabotage systems.

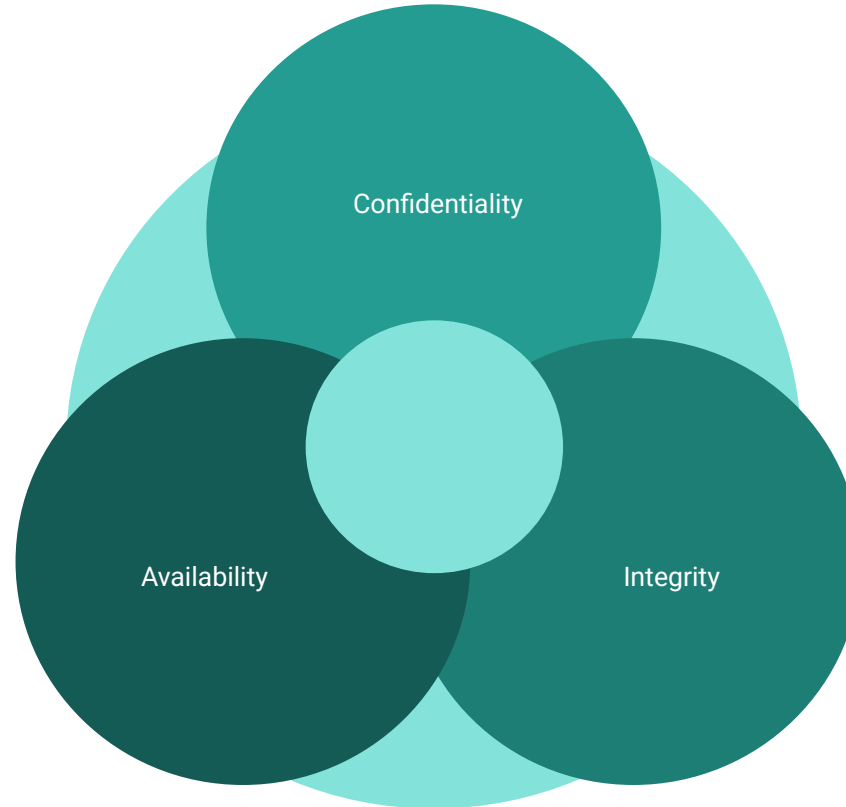

APT to consider

Notable mention

- Local groups/communities(goonies)
- Prominent Families

CIA Triad

- Confidentiality – preserving authorized restrictions on information access and disclosure, including means for protecting personal privacy and proprietary information

Army values

- Loyalty Devote yourself to the U.S Constitution
- Duty Fulfill your responsibilities and accomplish tasks as part of a team, without taking shortcuts.
- Respect Treat others with dignity and respect while expecting others to do the same
- Selfless service Commit to going a furtherm enduring longer, and adding to the effort in your own way
- Honor Develop honorable habits and live up to our values in every choice you make
- Integrity Stand up for what is right, legally and morally, without doing or saying anything that deceives others
- Personal courage Face moral fear or adversity, while standing up for and acting upon the things you know are honorable

Escalation of force

Used to prevent military and law enforcement personnel from causing harm to enemy combatants who are surrendering or wounded and out of combat threat.

Rule of Engagement

Directives that delineate the circumstances and limitations under which U.S forces will initiate and/or continue combat engagement.

Mindset of a combat soldier

STANDING ORDERS, ROGERS' RANGERS

MAJOR ROBERT ROGERS, 1759

1. Don't forget nothing.
2. Have your musket clean as a whistle, hatchet scoured, sixty rounds powder and ball, and be ready to march at a minute's warning.
3. When you're on the march, act the way you would if you was sneaking up on a deer. See the enemy first.
4. Tell the truth about what you see and what you do. There is an army depending on us for correct information. You can lie all you please when you tell other folks about the Rangers, but don't never lie to a Ranger or officer.
5. Don't never take a chance you don't have to.
6. When we're on the march we march single file, far enough apart so one shot can't go through two men.
7. If we strike swamps, or soft ground, we spread out abreast, so it's hard to track us.
8. When we march, we keep moving till dark, so as to give the enemy the least possible chance at us.
9. When we camp, half the party stays awake while the other half sleeps.
10. If we take prisoners, we keep 'em separate till we have had time to examine them, so they can't cook up a story between' em.
11. Don't ever march home the same way. Take a different route so you won't be ambushed.
12. No matter whether we travel in big parties or little ones, each party has to keep a scout 20 yards ahead, 20 yards on each flank, and 20 yards in the rear so the main body can't be surprised and wiped out.
13. Every night you'll be told where to meet if surrounded by a superior force.
14. Don't sit down to eat without posting sentries.
15. Don't sleep beyond dawn. Dawn's when the French and Indians attack.
16. Don't cross a river by a regular ford.
17. If somebody's trailing you, make a circle, come back onto your own tracks, and ambush the folks that aim to ambush you.
18. Don't stand up when the enemy's coming against you. Kneel down, lie down, hide behind a tree.
19. Let the enemy come till he's almost close enough to touch, then let him have it and jump out and finish him up with your hatchet.

Creeds in which we live by

RANGER CREED

Recognizing that I volunteered as a Ranger, fully knowing the hazards of my chosen profession, I will always endeavor to uphold the prestige, honor, and high esprit de corps of the Rangers.

Acknowledging the fact that a Ranger is a more elite Soldier who arrives at the cutting edge of battle by land, sea, or air, I accept the fact that as a Ranger my country expects me to move further, faster, and fight harder than any other Soldier.

Never shall I fail my comrades I will always keep myself mentally alert, physically strong, and morally straight and I will shoulder more than my share of the task whatever it may be, one hundred percent and then some.

Gallantly will I show the world that I am a specially selected and well trained Soldier. My courtesy to superior officers, neatness of dress, and care of equipment shall set the example for others to follow.

Energetically will I meet the enemies of my country. I shall defeat them on the field of battle for I am better trained and will fight with all my might. Surrender is not a Ranger word. I will never leave a fallen comrade to fall into the hands of the enemy and under no circumstances will I ever embarrass my country.

Readily will I display the intestinal fortitude required to fight on to the Ranger objective and complete the mission, though I be the lone survivor.

Questions for your consideration

- Would it feel to have your nation and Global trust in you and principles, to now being served/condemned by those who lack both mental and moral constitutions?
- Knowing how each failure, set-backs, and 'try' (instead of committing to succeeding) impact a society. How does it feel to have administrator who barely care for their own well-being, being in charge of yours?
- Time being the most valuable asset, having it wasted by administrators folly that hide behind false empathy whom hold sociopathic tendencies (delusional people, who work on those they brand as delusional)
- Can you point to a program, function, or department within the Veteran's Affairs who specializes in supporting this minority group and have the ability to comprehend their point of views and concerns?
